Avon Dassett Parish Council Meeting 03.10.05.
District Councillor's Report

1. As indicated previously, the District Auditor, after receiving guidance from the Electoral Commission, has indicated that in future all election expenses for Parish Councils shall be met from individual parish councils' precepts rather than from the District Council. You will shortly be receiving an indication of the cost of holding an election in your parish but it is anticipated that it will be somewhere between £500 - £700 depending upon the size of the electorate. Where no election is held, but a Parish Councillor is co-opted onto the committee, the cost goes up from £75 to £100 per adoption. These costs have been imposed upon the District Council after receiving advice from the Audit Commission.
2. After a small hiccup, the Local Plan is now back on course and it is anticipated that it will be adopted and finally published in March 2006. Central government is pressing for a tremendous expansion in housing and is threatening to impose their requirements on areas which are currently protected from development through the Local Plan. An example of this, is north-west Hertfordshire where Mr Prescott has insisted that a large area of Green Belt surrounding Stevenage should be released for development against the wishes of the Local Authority.
3. The District Council is in the midst of consulting various departments in the council in preparation for next year's Council Tax. It is a fine balancing act between income and expenditure, savings have been identified and much depends on the support central government provides. Last year, with the prospect of an election the government provided generous sums of money and this allowed the District Council to increase Council Tax by only 3.5%. However, with no prospect of an election it is doubtful whether the government will be as generous and to balance the books there will undoubtedly have to be savings in expenditure which will not be to everyone's approval.
4. The Council is going through a major reorganisation with its management. We will be reducing the number of Directors from 3 to 2, and the numbers of Heads of Service from 13 to 8. This reorganisation will lead to improvements and ultimately, savings. Many other councils have adopted the model which Stratford has been encouraged to adopt.
5. The Area Community Committee will be meeting on 8 November 2005 with a wide range of topics including the Priors Marston Parish Plan, a Report on Crime in the District as well as applications from many communities seeking grant support. With the completion of the grant applications the Dassett ACC will have contributed £100,000 to local projects since April 2005. It is anticipated that a further meeting of the Dassett ACC will be meeting in January when, amongst other items, the public will be invited to comment about the Council's proposals for next year's budget.
